Hodgins & Kiber Receives Expertise Award for 2025

August 17, 2026

ATLANTA, GA - August 17, 2026 -
Hodgins & Kiber, LLC, a Midtown Atlanta personal injury law firm, has been recognized by Expertise.com as one of Atlanta's best personal injury law firms for 2025. According to Expertise.com, the designation is awarded through an independent editorial review that evaluates attorneys across 25 variables in five categories, including reputation, credibility, experience, availability, and professionalism. Expertise.com states that fewer than 20 percent of law firms reviewed in a given market receive the designation.

The Expertise.com methodology is consumer-facing and research-driven, distinct from peer-recognition programs. Its evaluation weighs verified review quality, responsiveness to client inquiries, and market presence. For Hodgins & Kiber, the Hodgins and Kiber Expertise Award marks the firm's inclusion in the 2025 list. The firm is also a Better Business Bureau Accredited Business, a status held alongside the Expertise Award and maintained at its office at 1720 Peachtree Street NW.

The recognition arrives during a period of increased roadway activity in the Atlanta market. According to data cited by the Georgia Department of Transportation, the metro Atlanta area continues to record a high volume of vehicle crashes annually, a trend that has kept demand for personal injury services elevated. Firms operating in the region have adjusted their practices in response to both crash volume and recent changes in state law.

Georgia's legal framework changed with the enactment of Senate Bill 68, signed April 21, 2025. The legislation revised how medical damages are calculated, how fault is apportioned among parties, and how non-economic damages are presented in personal injury cases statewide. The measure took effect for cases filed after its enactment and applies to personal injury litigation across Georgia.

"The Expertise.com methodology looks at the parts of legal work that clients experience directly, including verified reviews, responsiveness, and availability, rather than standing among peers alone," said David Hodgins, Attorney at Hodgins & Kiber. "Those are the dimensions this firm has organized its Atlanta practice around, staying accessible, communicating proactively, and making sure clients understand their case at every stage. Under SB 68, the framework calls for more rigorous claim-building from the outset, and this firm approaches case preparation with that requirement in mind."
